Kind regards Yes. I installed on my dell n5110 and it works. Lose the wireless internet connection when it is not active Hello! I see you will see a check mark next to this option and enter 5 in the minute field will cause the router to disconnect from the internet after 5 minutes of no activity from the internet. This option should be used if you pay for your Internet service by the minute. Good bye DW1501 support of the Windows 8 Half-Mini Card WLAN Wireless-N Hello! I recently upgraded my Dell Inspiron N5010 Windows 7 to Windows 8. Everything works fine except there is a problem with my network card. Since the upgrade, I noticed that my internet has slowed down a lot and I'm unable to play the online games like EVE Online because I seem to disconnect from the internet for a fraction of second causing sign out of my game. I'm not the only user N5010 to notice this and so far it seems no fix or solution to this real. Apparently it is something to do with a driver that is installed by Windows 8 which should make network cards work but there is a bug for my type of network card (and others I think) but I'm not entirely sure what is the cause. For this reason, I had to reinstall my Windows 7 that I find it disappointing that I love especially Windows 8. I hope there is a solution or a fix for this I don't want to have a copy of Windows 8 Pro that I can't use. Thanks in advance for any help. Don't worry I'm here to help u buddy Then go to C:\dell\drivers\R258276\W258276 then the scroll, you will see a file called IS.exe then go to properties, compatibility, select windows 7 and apply Then run this file it works Re: Problem with WiFi, 1 x 1 11 b/g/n Wireless LAN PCI Express Half-Mini Card adapter Thanks, it just helped me to correct my 550 x120e that were blue screening after reimage? Solution - updated the driver for Realtek HP - RTL8192CE-VA4 (software) Lenovo please update your homepage Problems connecting to half mini-map DW1520 wireless-n wlan I have problems with my wireless card, it's a DW1520 wireless-n wlan half-mini card in a desktop XPS 8300. It started only yesterday, but the map is completely unplugged whenever it starts (4-5 times now) she also regularly (varies between every 10 minutes and every 30/40 minutes) abandons the connection all the way to the Red Cross and then will reconnect Finally, windows troubleshooting tool recommended never to restart the router, but this is not the problem as other devices maintain a connection while the computer does this. Nobody knows how to solve this problem, as the abandonment of the connection becomes very annoying. Hey Yeh I found the answer eventually, my problem has proved to be a really stupid thing to miss to be honest so maybe not the same for others. But I did notice a new network being introduced in my 'space' (grrr * neighbors) and basically it slightly crossed with my wireless channel so I scanned the wireless networks to see what channels each used, found a nice empty space mine can fit in and then he moved to there and bam solved problem. God knows what I will do if all the gaps are filled, night time sabotage other networks lol half-mini wireless-n DW1520 card will not work on the only G N I recently updated my internet connection to 30 MBPS to 15 with the Charter. I ran a speed test with my Dell desktop computer with the Ethernet cable directly plugged into the modem and got a speed of decent connection, but when I use my router and Wireless - N DW1520 Half - Mini Card on this computer, the connection speed drop nearly in half! It seems that the card will work in Wireless-G and not the faster Wireless-N. Why is it and, if possible, how can I change this setting? Thanks for your time. Hello Don't forget to convert Mbits in megabytes. Check this box: WiFi vs actual throughput speeds You must use N g would not work anywhere near as fast you see. G = 54 Mbps or 6.8 MB and real world 3.4 MB N = 300 Mbit turbofan 150 Mbps single stream or 37.5/18.7 MB and real world 18.5/9.3 MB. Interference, the distance and other environmental conditions may further reduce the speed WiFi. Thus, it seems that your WiFi becomes very good passage of double-flow N. I hope this helps. Rob Brown - Microsoft MVP Desktop XPS 8300 21/10/13 Vincenzo, I would like to reinstall my operating system to a 'Factory' state using the Re-installation Dell disk and not using F8 at startup. The disc indicates that installation does not include drivers. There is a drivers and Utilities disc also came with the PC, but I'm very unsure of what drivers to install and in what order. Would appreciate your help in explaining to me what drivers to install and in which order, here is the information you request. Thank you! I swapped the card Dell 6000 specific for a 7850 series, a year or two before, but with the release of the new 300 series of AMD cards, I think to upgrade again. With the age of the XPS 8300, these new cards will cause problems, or they are basically plug-and-play as my 7850 was? The individual 960 EVGA GTX 02 G-P4-2966-KR 960 2 GB 128 - Bit GDDR5 SuperSC ACX 2.0 + video card I bought probably will work fine. A 970 or 980 could not, and would require a new power supply. The 525W in my T3400 unit works very well with my 960 using 2 6 pins for power adapter 3 pin that comes with the card. When I was trying to solve a problem with a Link-Layer Topology problem, I came across a setting that has been disabled and I would like to know why. The path to get there is StartMenu > ControlPanel > DeviceManager. Once I'm there, I changed the view to connect devices. I double clicked on the Dell WLAN Mini Card, began to inspect the settings for something referring to the topology of the layer of liaison, and found something XPress (TM) technology is a framework for people with disabilities. WHY? The rest of this list is to some extent; WHY isn't just a SINGLE (caps for close-up camera extreme intense intrigue, not screaming)? I've used windows? but impossible to get info. Can you please help me? Hello XPress (TM) Technology is a standards-based software enhancement that increases the efficiency of the data in order to improve the performance of the network. A friend gave me a WLAN 802.11n mini-map he got HP and never used. What drivers and adapters wireless do I need to use this card to set up my computer to the wireless network. This work of setting type will love Wi Fi I can also can internet with my laptop? RNickelson wrote: thank you all for your expertise. How is connected to the antenna to the card, it is welded to the bow on the left side of the Middle? He took no airtime on the map. Wireless USB adapter looks like a good idea. Hello RNickelson, since you must buy the antenna of HP, I suggest simply buying a card PCIe x 1 from NewEgg and install it in one of the PCIe x 1 available slots. Here a link to NewEgg is where a wireless Asus PCIe x 1 card can be found at a reasonable price. It has two external antennas, which would better the antenna wire plug to map wireless HP and inside the metal computer case. The metal would decrease the signal compared to the antennas outside the case. You must always buy a wireless router, if you already have a step or access to a wireless access point. Dell Inspiron 1545 with a 1397 WLAN Mini Card with XP and SP3 will not connect to WPA2 My laptop is a Dell Inspiron 1545 with a 1397 WLAN Mini Card in XP that has less than two years.
